The oil industry is getting "back to normalcy" although too rapidly to please Kentucky people.

Oil production in the United States in 1920 totaled 443 million barrels, while consumption of oil in this country reached the unprecedented total of 531 million barrels.

Champ Clark, prominent Democratic leader, Speaker of the House of Representatives for many years and nearest contender for the presidential nomination in 1912, died in Washington Wednesday after a brief illness.

The new Secretary of the Navy is said to favor building the largest navy in the world. Having refused to join the peace league there is nothing else to do but get ready to fight. The steel companies, the gun makers, and the powder manufacturers are pleased with the program.

MR. YATES ANNOUNCES FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

To the voters of Lawrence county:—I am a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of the Thirty-Second district composed of the counties of Lawrence, Carter and Elliott, subject to the action of the Republican party at a primary election to be held on the 6th of next August.

Having served as Prosecuting Attorney of Carter county for the last seven years, which is the largest county in the district, I believe that I am better qualified to fill this office at this time than any other Republican in the district, and I ask the voters of the district before voting for me for this office to inquire into the record that I have made as County Attorney of my county for the last seven years, and if I have not measured up to the standard that is required of me as an officer I think you should vote against me; but all I ask is that you give me an honest consideration and remember that I am not a stranger to Lawrence county. My father was a Union soldier from Lawrence county, having been a member of the 14th Ky. and was a taxpayer of Lawrence county all his life, and I spent my school days all in Lawrence county and what education I have I received in the little country school house in Lawrence Co., and I never have lived out of the district and I expect to spend the balance of my life in the district and I believe if elected to this office that I can be of service to my people in enforcing the law which is the protection to the homes and lives of our people and if elected I shall do my duty as I see it without fear or favor.

I will make an active campaign for this nomination but it will be impossible for me to see all the voters as the district is large and I will be compelled to look after the office of County Attorney in my county, but I hope to meet and talk with most of the voters before August 6.

Yours respectfully,
THOS. S. YATES.

JAMES TRIMBLE BECOMES V. P. OF WASHINGTON BANK

The Washington Times says: The National Bank of Washington is to be improved extensively, according to announcement made today, the directors stating that the interior of the structure is to be completely remodeled and the banking house made into one of the most attractive in the city.

In order to provide for the special improvements which are contemplated, the bank has purchased the property immediately adjoining it on C street and work on the remodeling will begin shortly.

The safe deposit vault of the institution will be greatly enlarged according to the plans, with new offices of the trust department of the institution as well as special rooms for the comfort of women patrons of the institution.

At a meeting of the directors held yesterday, James Trimble, for the past seven years national bank examiner of the District, was elected to serve as an active vice president of the institution.

The official roster of the bank will be unchanged except that Vice President Trimble's name will be added. President Normont, Vice Presidents Francis Sturkey and Sacks, Cashier Naim and Assistant Cashier White will continue to direct the affairs of the bank in the liberal yet conservative manner which has assured its success in the past.

Mr. Trimble is a successful banker of many years experience, having sold his interests and resigned from the executive management of one of the leading banks in Ashland, Ky., and located in this city fourteen years ago.

While serving as national bank examiner in this district in 1916-17, he was assigned to New York City, where he conducted the examinations of its largest banks.

He has been called upon by the Treasury Department to do important work in many other money centers of the country and has received the unqualified endorsement of the department for his able and constructive service.

His retirement as the examiner for this district will be regretted by the leading bankers of Washington and Baltimore, among whom he has earned the reputation of being a conscientious and thorough official. He will, however, be welcomed in banking circles as a man of wide experience and of the highest integrity.

34,517 ANIMALS SHIPPED OUT OF STATE IN 1920

Frankfort, Ky.—Shipments of livestock of all kinds from Kentucky to other States and countries during 1920 totaled 34,517 head, according to the annual report of Dr. W. H. Simmons, State veterinarian, and Dr. W. F. Biles, head of the Kentucky Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. Hogs shipped out were the most numerous, 18,049 being sent to other sections of the country and even to other countries.

Shipments during the year were sent to Honolulu and Brazil as well as many States and were as follows:

Horses, 3,920; mules, 5,323; jacks, 335; Jennets, 27; cattle, 5,100; hogs, 18,049; sheep, 2,745; and goats, 8.

Forty of the 120 counties in Kentucky did not ship any kind of livestock to other States, the report shows. The shipments of goats were made from Warren county.

Payette county led in the number of horses shipped, 848 being consigned to other States and countries. Jefferson was second with 505, followed third with 217 and McCracken fourth with 208.

Warren county was first in shipment of mules, 750 head being consigned to out-of-State points. Hickman was second with 538, McCracken third with 438 and Jefferson fourth with 347.

Jefferson county shipped the most cattle, 959 head being reported. Logan was second with 356, Shelby third with 319 and Graves fourth with 279.

Mercer led in swine shipments with 3,142 head; Lincoln was second with 1,718, Fleming third with 1,337, and Union fourth with 1,287.

Woodford county shipped the most sheep, 600 being sent out of that county; Jefferson was second with 268, Clark third with 254, and Mason fourth with 323.

REPUBLICANS SPENT $8,100,000, AND DEMOCRATS $2,237,770

Washington.—Campaign costs of electing a President of the United States in 1920 were $10,338,509, as estimated by a special Senate Committee which filed its report with Congress Tuesday. Of this amount Republican candidates and campaign organizations spent $8,100,000, while Democratic expenditures were $2,237,770. The compilation took into account the expenditures made by or in behalf of all candidates for the Republican and Democratic presidential nominations, and of national, state, congressional and senatorial committees of both these parties, neglecting amounts spent by candidates and organizations of minor political parties.

The report, while stating "that the expenditure of these vast sums is a present and growing menace to the nation," made no recommendations for congressional action, except that the suggestion was made that the Elections Committees of the next Congress should consider the question.

BUSSEYVILLE

IN MEMORY.

The death angel has again visited our community and claimed for its victim Mrs. Erie A. Compton, the oldest daughter of T. H. and Julia Bosse of Busseyville. She was born December 29, 1836, married to Burgess Compton Dec. 26, 1915. Departed this life Feb. 23, 1921, her age being 84 years, two months and three days.

She died at the home of her parents, on Friday the body was laid to rest in the family graveyard overlooking the home. Funeral services were conducted by Revs. Day and Fogg.

To know Erie was to love her. She was converted about seven years ago to a holiness meeting at Chattanooga, W. Va., and has lived a good Christian ever since. She has been in poor health for some time but had been confined to her bed about two months. She bore her suffering patiently and when it was said she should no longer live she took peacefully to rest in the arms of our dear Saviour. She called her relatives one by one to her bedside and told them all to meet her in heaven. She would ask her friends to sing and pray and her one special song was "This so sweet to trust in Jesus." The people of the whole country visited Erie through her illness. At her death they mourned their loss which was Heaven's gain. Her sickness was long, but she was in the state of readiness. She had sweet communion with Jesus and met with loved ones who were waiting at the beautiful gate to welcome her in.

She leaves a husband, father and mother, two brothers, two sisters and a host of friends to mourn their loss. It was sad to part with her, but let us all prepare to meet her again in that sweet bye and bye where parting comes no more. A SISTER.
